Trundle Desk

While compact in size the Trundle desk is packed with function. The desk has a useful second surface and hidden cord management storage. A full-length second surface extends creating an expansive surface for projects and papers. The all-wood desk was designed in California, made in Pennsylvania using sustainable produced raw materials from North Carolina creating a local approach to design and production.

Big Rib

Inspired by pork ribs the Big Rib table uses a repeating form to create a modular table that can grow to fit any size space. The "ribs" ship unassembled using less packaging material and a smaller box. The easy to assemble ribs allow for the creation of an endless table for any environment. With the purchase of an add-on kit the table can grow three ribs at a time.

Nester Boxes

Like Russian nesting dolls the Nester Boxes fit inside of each other for easy transport and shipping. The small footprint also cuts down on the amount of packaging needed for shipping. Each box is finely crafted in molded ply creating simple and versatile storage. They can be used stacked for book storage or if used as singles they can function as small tables.
